Plans for future events

1. Easter Egg raffle. £1 for a strip,6 strips for £5

We have had a generous and very special Easter Egg donation that is ideal for a raffle. Could we leave it in the office for next week and perhaps some of us to volunteer on some days in the run up to have it out on a table and encourage more ticket sales. Winner announced at the Spring Sing.

2. Big breakfast/Curriculum experience: Saturday 6th May 10.30-12pm (£3 per person and this includes a bacon or sausage bap and refill on hot drinks/soft drinks)

This has been really successful before and a nice chance to have a Saturday morning start-might be a nice opportunity to celebrate the curriculum displays around the school without the pressure on the teachers of parent consultations? Would be good to also invite pre-school to be reception parents to help with transition.

A chance to find out about mastery maths/English Home learning activities/approaches Any new resources Walk around all the classrooms

We need

Bacon and Sausage baps (serve out of the hatches from the kitchen)-talk to Simon Brown sauce, ketchup, mustard Fruit juice, water Coffee Tea

3. Summer fair: Friday 7th July 3.30-5. No entry free, charge for t-shirt

The PTFA will source and buy plain white t-shirts for everyone and teachers with their classes decorate them in some way (tye dye, fabric paint, applique etc) and then do a fashion show. (Some parents and PTFA members might be able to help out with this depending on what days/times this is done. Y4s to run some stalls as before

Games as last year (splat the rat, skittles, bottle stalls, hook a duck). Need to find out from Betty about Splat the Rat.

Tomobola jam jars- each class is allocated a theme and parents are asked to bring in a jam jar (per child) filled with a themed idea (dried fruit, smelly stuff, chocolate, biscuits/cookies, stationary, hair accessories, mini action/toy figures, craft stuff-stickers, glue, glitter tubes)

Sian to look into PTFA website for raffle prizes

Cake sale, tea and coffee,

4. The Richards (July 20th) £8 per parent, grandparent and £5.50 extra siblings. All Y4 children, Richard Clarke staff and volunteers are guests and are free
